CORN BOB

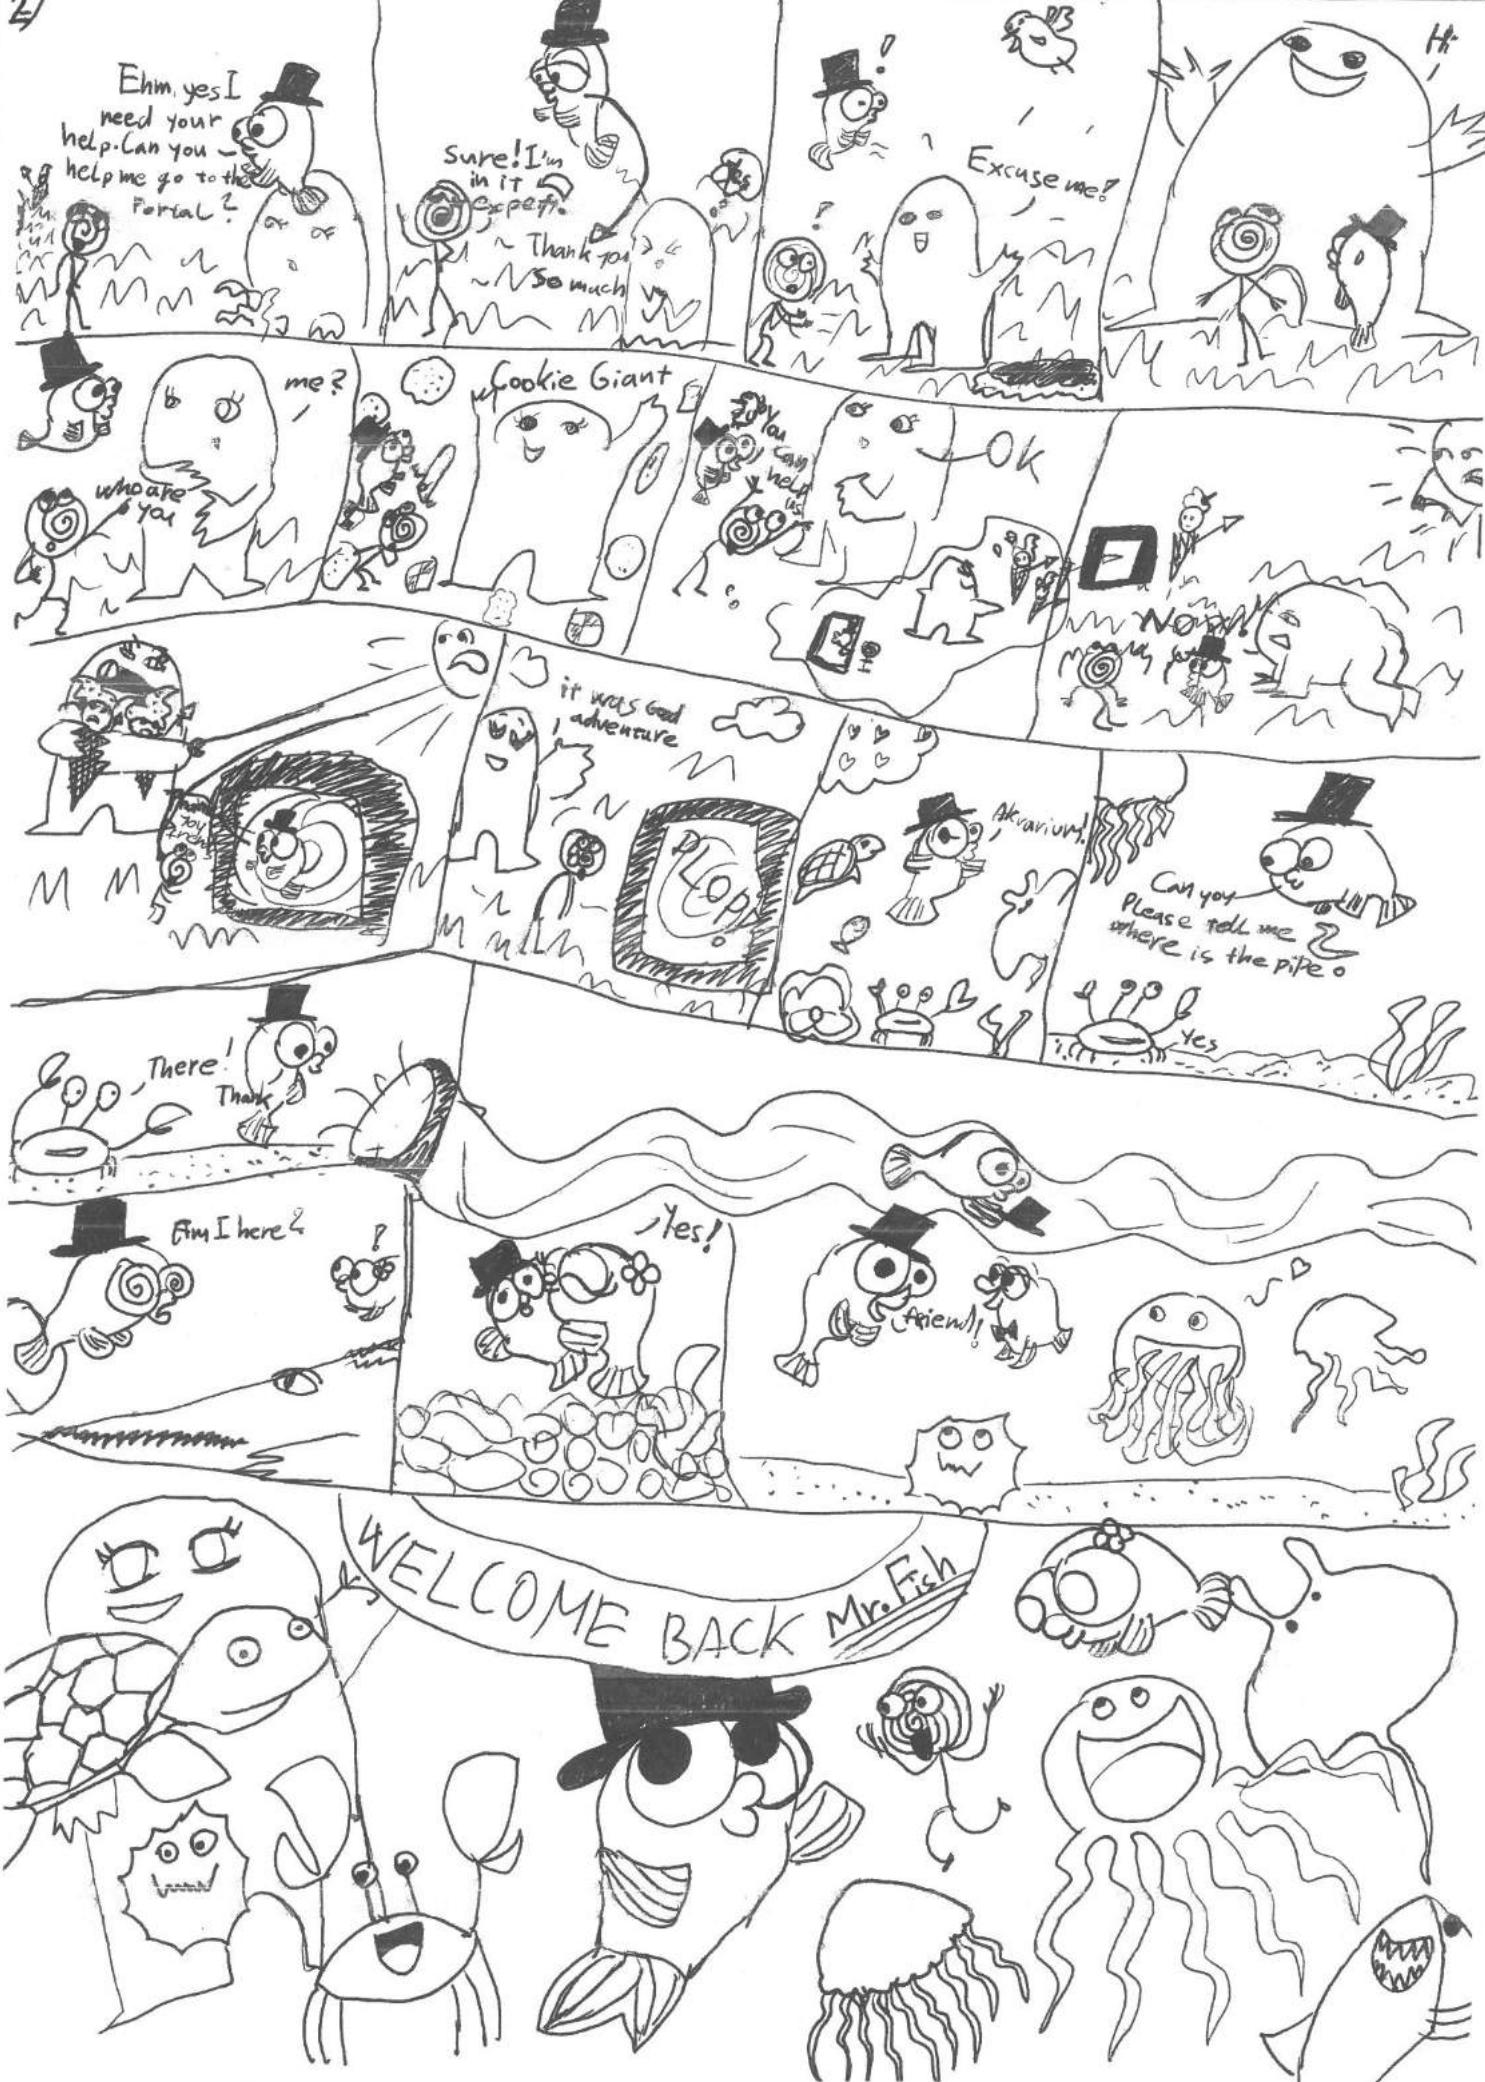

Once, there was a corn named Bob.

Bob lived in a corn village, with his mother, father and his brother John. John already had a job. He worked in a car company named Concedes. Bob was still a small corn, but he wasn't happy. He wanted to be a popcorn. His parents told him, it was impossible for him to become a popcorn, but Bob was sure it was possible. He didn't tell anyone, but he found a book that his grand great great father wrote. He wrote about a mountain where a corn can become a popcorn. It was the Microwave Mountain. So, one night Bob sneaked out of his house, and started his path. The only thing he took with him, was the book which included a map to the Microwave Mountain. On his path he met an evil corn named James which tried to kill him, but Bob was good at karate so he defeated James. After a month of walking, Bob finally saw the Microwave Mountain. It was enormous, but Bob wasn't scared. He started climbing, and after an hour, he reached the top. And finally, there it was. The Microwave. Bob couldn't believe what he was looking at.

The Microwave was massive. After a while, Bob encouraged himself, and opened the Microwave. He went in and the door closed. Bob panicked and tried to open the door, but he couldn't. Bob was really scared and started to regret his decision, but it was too late. The temperature began to change quickly. It was so hot and cold at the same time, so Bob couldn't breathe. And suddenly, POP! Bob looked at himself, and was shocked. He was an popcorn! He went out of the Microwave and started flying back to his village.

The Special Cowboy

The Special cowboy is called Jeff. Jeff has a lot of special skills and that's why he's called The special cowboy. One of his special skills are: throwing a rope, fast shooting and changing horses. One day Jeff came to an unknown town. It doesn't have a name because it's unknown and sacred. It's basically a ghost town. The first thing he sees is a saloon there was nobody but a quiet customer. He said "will you help me find his treasure? It's somewhere in the Sioux tribe, we just go to find it". Jeff agreed to find the treasure "yes i'm gonna find it" "but i have a cat to" in a happy voice. First we need two horses. "Oh, can pick for you the perfect horse just tell me your height" Jeff said. And that is a mustang it's white and black like a dalmatian dog "Well that's good because i like dogs" The mysterious man said. "Second what we need is a lot of supplies from the farm or food from another town." So what do you choose farm or town. "I will go with town" "Okay". Now go to the closest town it's called The Citadel. Jeff went there asked "to whole breads". NO for 2 golds. "Okay" with a sad voice. And those were my last gold. So Jeff went back without any money. And The mysterious man said "Did you get it?" "Yes" sadly. "Okay" were ready to go. After they went up the mountain and cliffs and hills; woods and desert, finally they came to the Sioux tribe and shouted "FBI open up". And the head of the tribe was frightened. They asked for the a shovel they finally found it they were super surprised. The End

MY HOLIDAYS

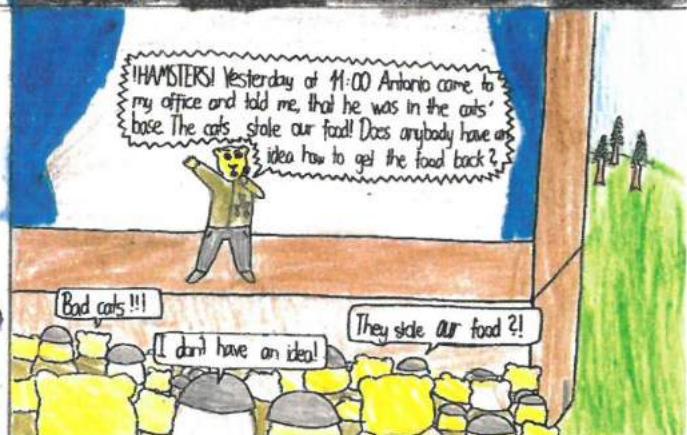

Tydrová Juli

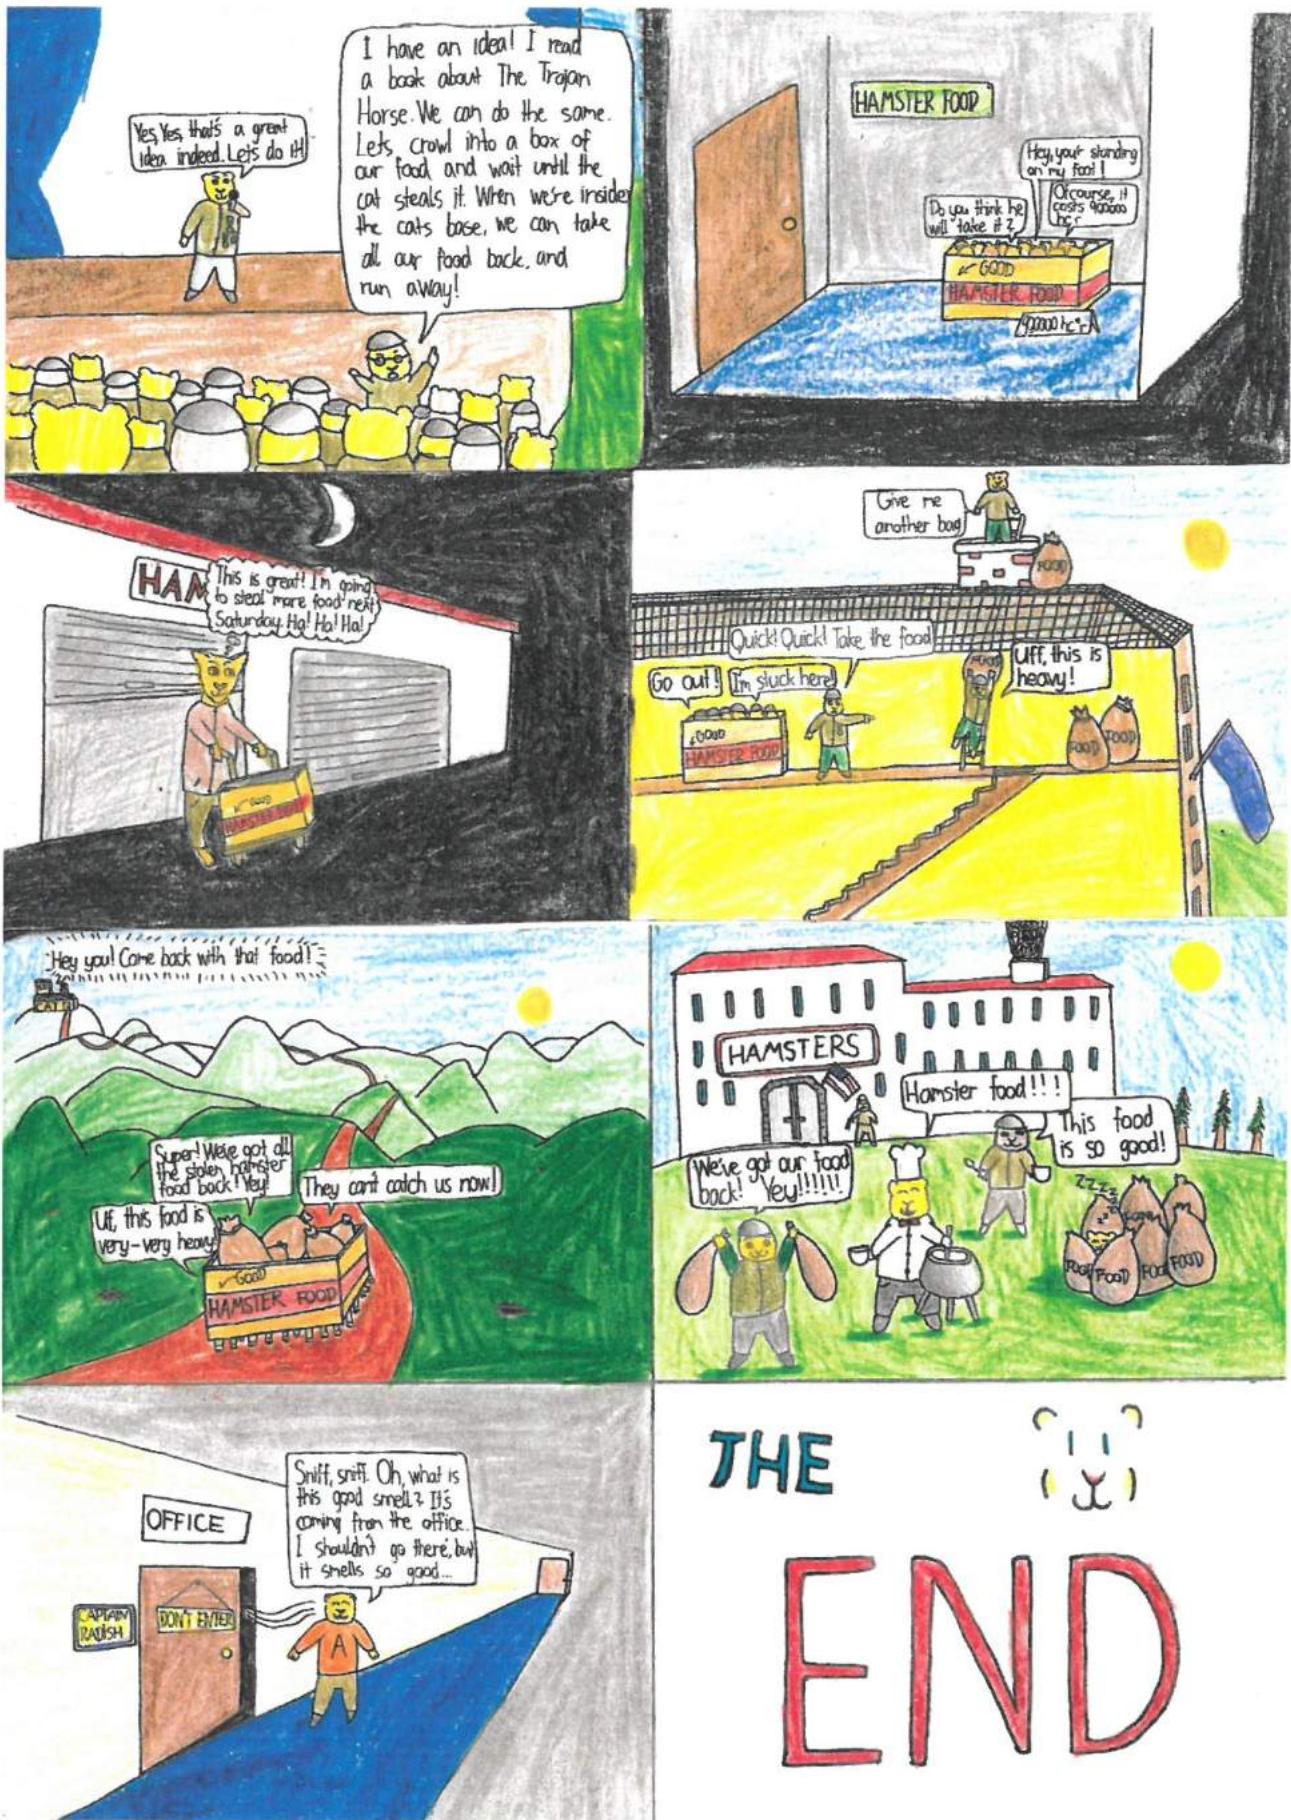

Hello, I'm July. And I will tell you about my holidays.
My holidays started when I arrived to the our cottage.
It was very interesting. First day we rode bikes to the Přešek.
Next day we went to the rescue station Makov with the very cute animals. And after this week I went with my brother and my friends to the scouts camp. When we arrived to the camp, older scouts welcomed us.
Then we unpacked our things. I suddenly found out that the theme of the camp is Mafia. First, I thought, it would be boring, but it wasn't.... On arrival they told us who we are in the team with.... I was not very happy. But I thought, I can survive it somehow. Then it was so fast that I wasn't surprised and half the camp was behind me. We did very interesting things for example:
Finnish trail, sleeping outside the camp, four days trip, etc.
Then the camp ended and we went home. I enjoyed the whole camp a lot and I look forward to next year.
I spent the next days at home and at the cottage.
And then there was a big final..... Long journey by car to Norway for 14 days. We saw there: reindeers, mooses and a lot of waterfalls. We camped at wild. We drove through Norway and visited our friends in Trondheim.
They gave us a taste of their specialties, for example:
sweet brown cheese, salty chocolate and raspberry jam.
That was very good. I also enjoyed my trip to Norway. I recommend everyone to go there because there is very beautiful nature.

Diff and Rent

Children from children's home called them Diff and Rent because they were different. They were best friends.

They were always in bad mood. One day a clown came to the children's home.

From that moment on, Lucy and Liam were in good mood. Later, they got married and founded their own children's home.

Why do I LOVE OPERA

The Estates Theatre in Old Prague is not as small as it seems from the outside. Sometimes even I don't believe how big it really is. When I was just a spectator who wanted to see an opera, I had no idea what a magical world it was.

When I was four years old, I was admitted to the team of the Children's Opera at the National Theatre, and from that time I sing, dance and act.. My first performance was called Czech Christmas Mass by Jakub Jan Ryba, and I have been acting in the show for a long time

During the last performance of this mass, I pierced my foot with a nail on the stage, but I stood the pain and lasted till the end of the performance.

Once there was such a rush that the makeup artist was ironing the costume directly on my body and burned my belly. That time we had three performances in a row, and I was acting in all of them with a bag of ice under my shirt, and I have many other stories from my performances behind the scene

One time I got lost in the historic building of The National Theatre when I went to get my sweater from the stage. I was still very tiny then, and I felt completely lost and unhappy in the intertwined alleys of the backstage. Luckily, I met a local stagehand and he told me how to get out. He was wondering how it was possible that a four-year-old girl was wandering in the abandoned cloakrooms of The National Theatre.

But that was just the beginning!

When I was admitted to the Magic Flute as a little Queen of the Night, other problems arrived. For example: removing glitter out my eye (normally I have the glitter as a decoration on my face). Or I had no idea that I would learn to walk in heels, fit everywhere with a giant skirt with which I do not even fit in the door, eat melting ice-cream on stage etc ...

The most dramatic story was probably the one with the dagger. In the performance Magic Flute, the main character, Pamina, has to kill the high priest Sarastro with a dagger, and my task is to bring her the dagger. But this time the dagger rolled under the stage lights, and I couldn't find it because the lights dazzled me. I was a little frightened, but in the end, it turned out well and I delivered the murder weapon to Pamina.

It's not easy to look deadly serious on the stage when other actors are making faces at me from behind the scenes and try to make me laugh. Prince Tamino, for example.

And the last one:

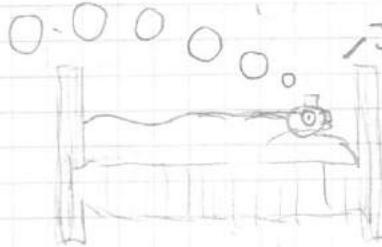

One day my brother, who was there behind the scenes as my adult supervisor, was chatting up one lady singer who was supposed to take me off the scene. She was so interested in him, that she completely forgot about me, so I had no choice but to sit and wait on the stage and pretend that everything is in perfect order.

Sometimes it is an adventure, sometimes it is quite difficult, but I love opera deeply.

Tereza's Mountain Memory

It happened almost 5 years ago when my family and I went to a small village in Switzerland called Zermatt for our winter holidays, where I experienced one of my many unforgettable memories.

It all started on December 20th, when I woke up with my sister named Veronika and we crawled together in our pyjamas to the dining table. After I finished my yoghurt full of fresh fruit and drank my daily fruit tea with honey and a small cinnamon biscuit, my family put on 5 layers of ski clothes and set out to prepare our skis.

After 10 minutes we stood by the lift that led up to the clouds. We all looked at it, wondering if it was a good idea to go skiing today, but a minute later we were already standing in a small cabin going toward the mountain covered by snow named Small Matterhorn, up to the 3380 metres high. We had the total of 6 stops! Every stop it became more foggy and snowy than the one before, but we rode on. My mum started saying at the fourth stop "we should get off here, it's gonna be too cold up there with no visibility to ski down!", but my dad always replied: "Do not worry, the clouds disappear eventually" being convinced that the clouds will tear up. At the fifth stop you couldn't even see the cabin in front of us, it was getting worse and worse, I was watching it the whole time.

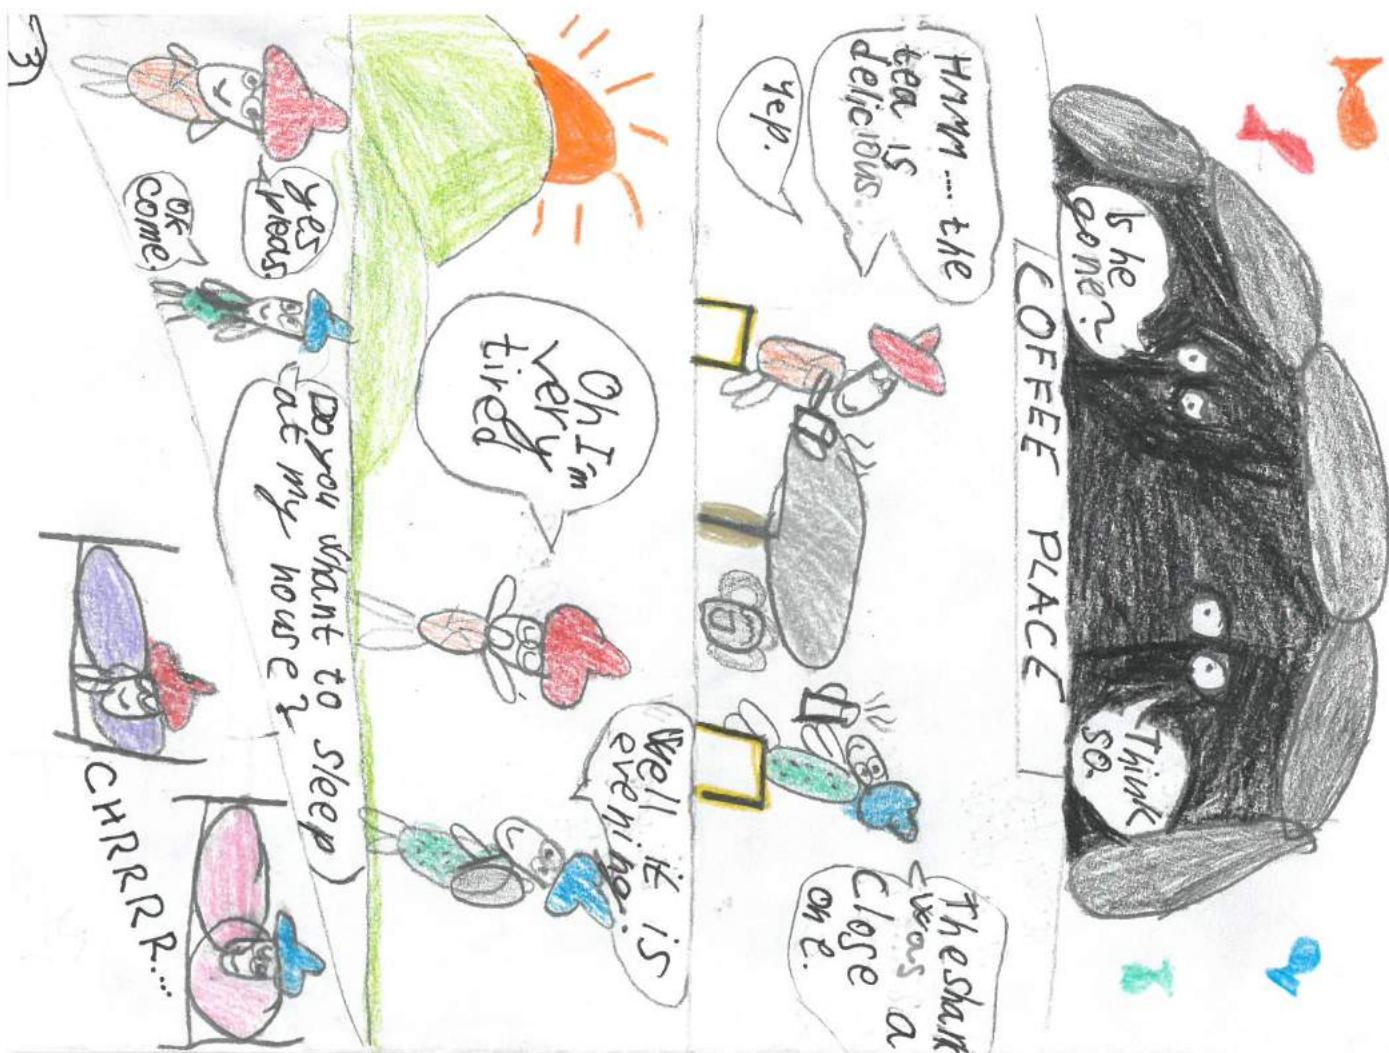

When we reached the summit, we slowly slid to the edge of the ski slope. Everywhere you looked the only thing you could see, it was snow and the sign we stood next to when my mom said "this is nonsense! Tereza is too small for this. Veronika clearly but Tereza? We'll go back to the lift and go down", my chin was shivering from the cold and my nose was starting to freeze up, but I turned to face my dad, expecting he'd respond. Dad, however, crouched down to my level and looked at me, "You can see clearly that she is cold, there is no doubt about that, but I believe we trust each other and she can do it!" He leaned on his ski poles and pushed himself down the slope. At that moment both with a cold and fear left me. Veronika gently patted my back and quietly said, "You are a great skier, believe our parents, you'll see!" and she pushed me swiftly down the slope. I whirled down at a speed I had never gone before. It was not long before I saw my sister slowly overtaking me and my dad for the lead, and my mum gracefully and stylishly painting curves in the snow. The feeling was amazing, it was getting better and better on the way down. Visibility improved, the snow became easy to read for a safe skiing and my smile was growing.

When we got back to Zermatt, I finally felt the gratitude that I had the chance to go down one of the highest mountains in Zermatt and realized that to learn new things, get new experiences and earn new memories you have to get out of your comfort zone. It's not always easy, but your family and friends can help you with that.

Enjoy Winter holidays you will never forget!

Legend about stars*

"Ever wondered how or when stars appeared on sky?"

Once upon a time, there was a small village filled with small, cozy houses, farms, fields and everything you can imagine. Exactly like from fairytale. And at the end of village, behind tall trees, there was hiding a small lake. There was a young couple meeting everyday around the same time. But it wasn't just regular couple, because the boy was a son of god and goddess. And goddess of sun, Yolar, didn't like this. Not even a single bit. So she and her brother, Lunos hid sun and moon everytime they met.

But that didn't stop them, because they always brought a candle with them. As time went by, they fell more in love with each other. And of course, nothing escaped the sneaky eye of Yolar, who was getting more and more jealous. "How could he love such a poor mortal like her?" she thought. Then she got the idea to tell his father, Attis. So, she did.

Once he heard these terrible news, he got up from his throne and stormed out of room, fully enraged. Attis went to the stable, hop on his white pegasus and flew to the human world, while he was accompanied by big black clouds, lighting and loud thunder. At one moment, big thunderbolt sliced the sky in half and Attis flew onto the Earth and was looking for his son. He found him after a while and without any word, he took him home, where he decided that his son, Dions, shall never ever lay his feet in human world again. But Dions pleaded his father. Yet, he didn't even budge. And month slowly passed, while he started to lose hope he will ever see his love again. So, his friend Aquos promised to bring him atleast something from her, as a memory.

Next night, Aquos went into human world and collected Aria's tears in golden jar, which he brought to Dions. As he handed him now heavy jar, the moment his fingertips touched bottom of the jar, miracle happened and tears transformed into milion, tiny and shiny diamonds. Unfortunately, his father saw it, took that jar and threw it away into the dark, night sky, where all diamonds scattered. Dions wanted to collect them as they would fall down.

But they never did, because Zeus kept them there. Dionys was sad at first, but after 5 years, he managed to escape for 2 hours, to finally meet his love. And because Zeus was feeling guilty, he hid the sun with moon, so they could be together again for some time, without Solar and Attis seeing them. So, if you ever see sun eclipse, remember this backstory.

Its year ~~1941~~¹⁹⁴⁴, and the war. The bloody war is still raging on.

The nazi Germany had ~~to~~ won on the west front and now its focusing its efforts on the eastern front and in Afrika. Russians or the soviets are losing nobody expected the quick push from the Germans. They will be in Moscow in few months. But the worst thinks is happening in the occupied lands. The Polish people are suffering and the Jews and Russians.

The Russians have the numbers advantage but nobody knows for how long. I am Ivan Ivanović my last name isn't important for the story.

I joined the Polish resistance in Warsaw. We're small ~~go~~ cell ~~with~~ fourteen members and we don't have a lot of guns or ammunition.

Few of us were taken by the SS and never came back. They took my best friend Dimitry. He was from Soviet Russia they say he went to the camp. You can guess what camp. Last few weeks were hard. On every junction were German soldiers. One year later.

Our group is growing in numbers now we have sixty nine members. We stole some equipment from the Germans by ambushing them ~~one~~ one of their convoys. Fortunately we they weren't unprepared for us. We lost three men that day but we got also. It didn't look good for the Soviets Germany was one step from Moscow. The Stalingrad was taken but luckily the Soviets pushed them back to Donets river 1943.

They are stronger than ever. The Soviets are getting upper hand.

The Winston came and the unprepared Germans are freezing to death in the occupied lands i heard some stories about the new soviet new boy "kalyusha" as they call it ~~and~~ some say its killing more Soviets than Germans but i don't believe them.

1944 - Germany

The Germans are losing ground quicker than we expected. On the first of August we began the uprising. The Soviets were so close for Hawa 8A. 75. Germany 1945 14 let

They will help us. I was so naive. I think air base was five minutes away but no supports came. We were slowly losing house by house, we were unorganized. But we had the sewers & using them as escape routes. Finally some help came but not from the soviets but from the US and UK. Supply drops were a big relief. But the damn Germans pushed us to the knees. They shelled us day and night, they massacred the whole hospital full of wounded resistance members. But we held our ground & every house was a bunker. We fought hard but the soviets across the river were just watching. No help, no support just stagnation. We had to surrender. Germans handed us arms. We could leave. No one had ~~sold~~ would be executed. I was lucky enough that they let me go. Three months later i returned when the soviets took the city. Eighty percent of it was razed to the ground. Once beautiful Warsaw was now in ruins. And finally at 2:41 am on the 7 May 1945 the Germans surrendered but the fighting continue until 11 May. And now I am sitting in my chair and writing my story i sometimes think about the uprising why didn't we ~~the~~ waited few months, but nothing will change it.

In the end over 200 000 died in the uprising and in the war 70-85 million people has perished.

The End.

I am at the bus station. I really don't know, how to explain my scribble marks at school. Oh, my bus finally arrived.

"Hello sir, please, ticket to Capitain Sticker's street", said I.

"2 libras." I paid for a ticket and started to search any place in bus to sit. I was amazed, that there was no one in bus, only one strange man dressed only in black clothes. I couldn't see him into his face, so I didn't know how old is he. Sitting on another side of a bus then he did, I made sure he is not looking at me and tried to relax after afternoon classes. My house is pretty far from school.

It was about 20 minutes since we left the station, when the name of my destination was announced. I rapidly got up and for a very last second, ~~and~~ from the corner of my eye, I saw, how him spontaneously stood. So! He moved faster than me, so I started to move faster. "Come! I'm coming!" When the doors of a bus suddenly opened I almost ran out and walked across the street, looked back and this man was still going behind me! I stopped running, breathless out... In... And turned around. "WHAT DO YOU WANT FROM ME!" I screamed.

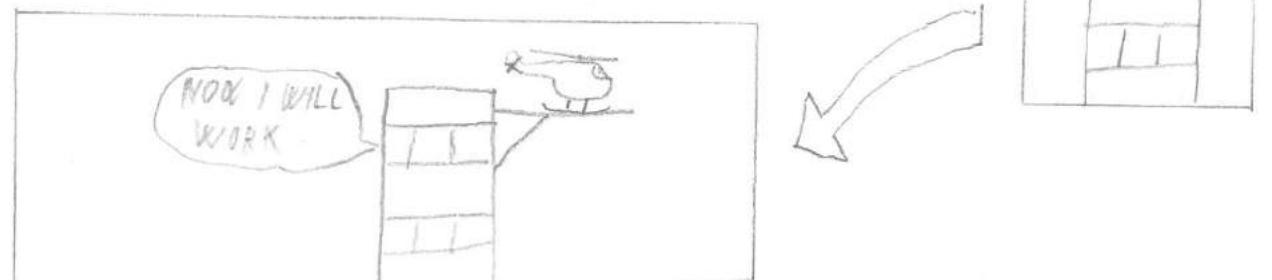

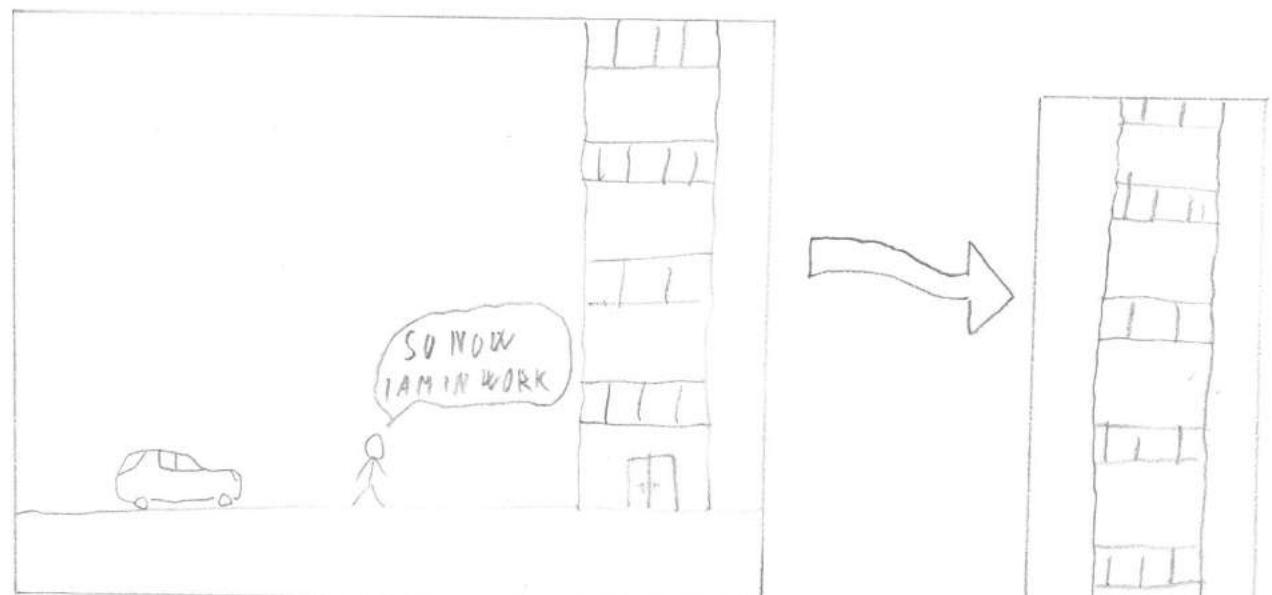

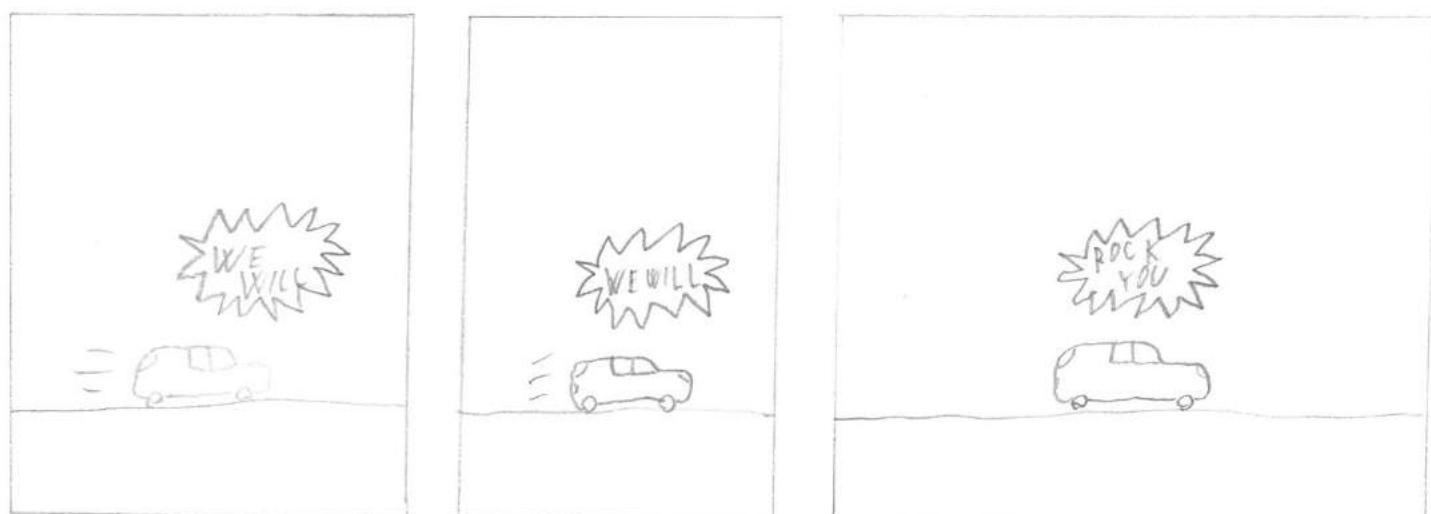

"I'm sorry, do you know where is a McDuffie avenue?" I had no words. He looked younger than me! "Um.. It's behind that big yellow building". I showed him. "Thank you a lot!". He left, but I was still standing shocked and thinking about: How paranoid I was.

Mum was waiting me at home. She looked angry not only because of my marks, but because I got home late. I somehow manage to calm her down and fell to my bed done for.

What I saw

When I opened my eyes, I saw a nice green meadow. In the distance were high mountains with fog on their tops and everywhere was silence. I have never seen this. It was ^{before} unbelievable because I didn't see nothing from civilisation.

suddenly it happened. I looked around me then I looked in ^{to} my pocket. I found that I had not almost nothing. I didn't have money, food, drink, passport, citizen, mobile. I just wore my clothes. I still didn't know where I was. I went to eat at least raspberries that grew close to me and I was thinking how to get home or at least to civilization. I saw the route and I went towards to it. When I was on the route I know that I must be near civilization. In few minutes I saw a little village on the hill. I wanted to go there to find out where I was. I found that I am in Nepal. Then I saw pointers to a town and went after them. I was in that city about two hours later. I saw railway station and I wanted to ask about way to next. There was a man in the ~~post~~ office who told me how to go. I remembered I haven't got any money or something to sell.

At this moment I woke up. It was weird, because the nice dream became to nightmare.

Day 397...

I'm headed to the Boneyard-my friends in tow of course. In the middle of our journey we were rushed by the enclave and they immediately said,,what's your business here strangers?"". I immediately started to panic they have plasma weapons and steel-nuclear powered armor's while we have ballistic weapons,dog jaw,two rusty laser rifles and a baseball bat...it just is'nt a good combination but luckily i had a pulse grenade which knock's out every piece of energy powered thing. I slowly activated the grenade and said,,Should'nt you focus on your pulsing problem?"and the grenade went on and i knocked them out. COLOURBLINDNESS

One boy was born on 1st May 1994, his name is Jamie and he's unusually intelligent. He was hiding colourblindness to his 19 years - his parents didn't know about it whole 19 years.

When Jamie was 5, he started to think about his eyes and what's wrong with them. Teachers and parents are still like 'Look at this beautiful blue!' or 'Do you see how shiny is this marker!?' and things like that, but he didn't see it. He could see only white, black and grey, he couldn't imagine colours, but he didn't mind.

When he was older he could play piano, he loved chemistry and Math, he won a lot of competitions. He was excellent at school - He was studying on the grammar school - even his life wasn't so easy, he never told this to anyone.

HIS GRADUATION

Jamie is 19 years old and he is graduating today. He had to prepare his speech for the official ceremony. 'Thanks to the girl who was wearing the red top...' Everyone looked at him. She was wearing yellow top - not red. That was the moment when he had to tell the truth. 'Mom, dad, teachers and my friends... I have to admit one thing what's happening from the day I was born on. I am colourblind, I can't see colours.' He shocked every pupil who was there. His parents came to him and hugged him. On the day after he told this his parents bought him the enchroma glasses (with these glasses he can see colours, FINALLY!)

He feels free today. He can even drive a car, he can do whatever he wants. Jamie is a crazy guy!

Far from our planet earth, far from any human being have ever been there was a planet. This planet was called S-2P1D and on this planet there were living was in life. There were creatures called Gelios and they were far lack of better word not really smart. Because of they were not smart they have a self-like structures but they weren't the only species on this planet there ~~were~~ were a bird like creature and these creatures were Smart and not just smart they were overthinking everything. Gelios and Smarties aren't really friends and they are fighting... a lot.

Once they were chasing Gelios into a pit when they would prepare net to capture them. The plan was that they will surround them and by the pressure they will fall into the newly prepared net. But Gelios ~~were~~ are not smart and they jumped straight into the hole when there was no net and wait for them to come by. Because Gelios weren't thinking that they are fighting they were just playing and trying to have fun in their harsh world.

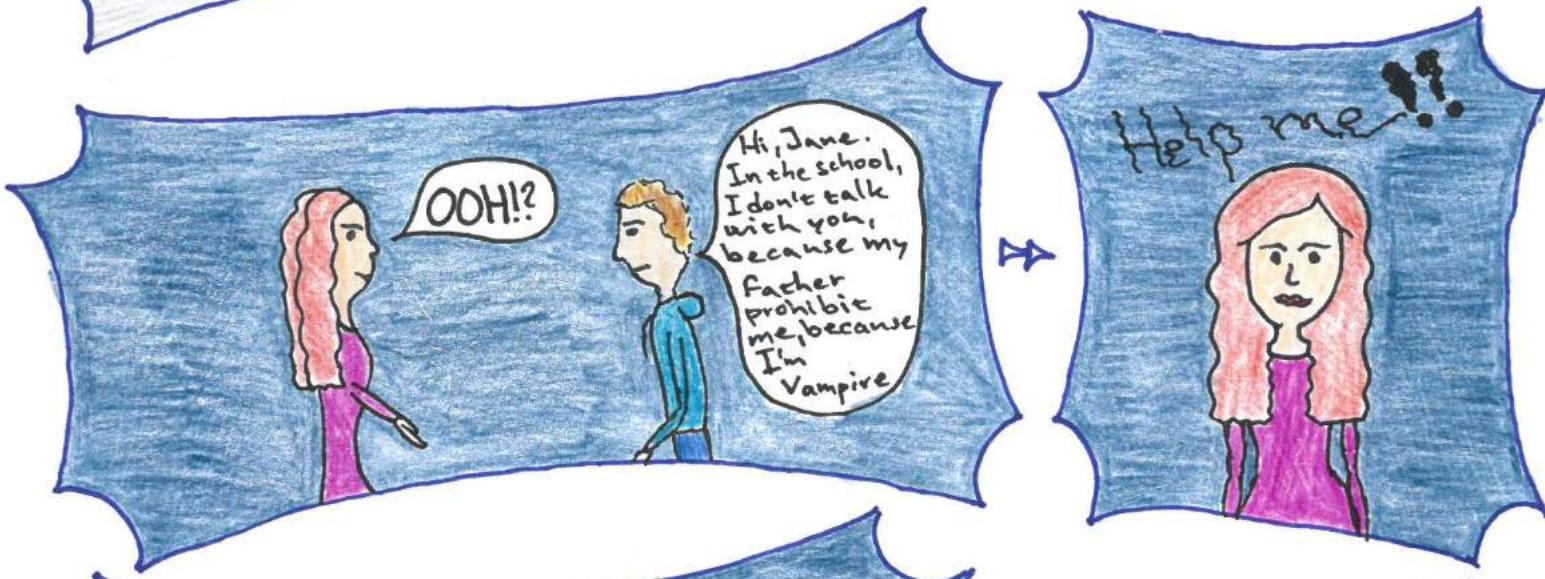

Smarties weren't prepared for that stupidity and this situation wasn't the only one. Gelios were always outstunning them. ~~But there were one time~~ Until once while Gelios were just hopping around freely Smarties were preparing a ~~big~~ net gun. When they fired they captured them. Gelios were thinking it is a fun game so they were friendly. The Smarties never confused and suddenly they realised that they were stupid all along, they ~~said~~ could just be friend and having a great time so they said ~~they~~ they had.

Haribo bears

Our story begins in huge supermarket. On 6th of March 2006 some employees bring there a delivery of Haribo bears. When they gave them in to the regal the bears started to move little bit.

Suddenly whole market was rustling. There were millions of bears on the floor. They wanted to get out from the building, so they broke the doors. They were small and slow so it took them whole night. First employees which came back to the job ~~saw~~ couldn't believe own eyes. There was a huge army of gummy bears. They called police to come to saw what was happening. Police officers thought that people are mad but they weren't. It was real. Police contacted the government and army. Government started to act. They were called scientists, apocalyptic experts and police, army generals. Then started debate how to solve the gummy bears apocalypse. They agreed that there are two possibilities to ~~the~~ build a huge steel cupola or to explode the nuclear ^{bomb} ~~bomb~~ but then Europe won't be habitable. So they started to build. Builders didn't have hundreds of years but they had a lot of time to build a cupola because ~~the~~ bears were really slow. It looked that idea with giant cupola worked.

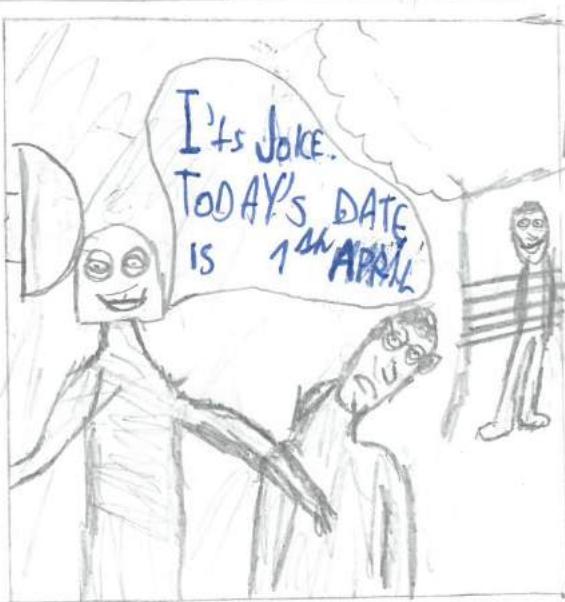

Now there are military patrols ~~are~~ watching what is happening in ~~the~~ that ~~so~~ separate world.

When I came home it was already afternoon. Sun went down. It was dark outside. I heard some strange noise. I had goosebumps. I didn't care about it so I went to my room. My dog came to me and I started to play with him. Then the noises came back. I went downstairs and the weird sounds were louder my dog started to bark. I ran to my bathroom and locked the door. I heard that someone was walking behind the doors. ~~Suddenly~~ Suddenly someone ~~had~~ turned off lights in whole house. It was weird but I had my mobile phone so I saw everything. My dog was with me but he looked like he ~~was~~ calm. I was nervous. I called my mom but my battery ~~is~~ was ~~too~~ low so it shut down before my mom picked it. Someone knocked on the door. My dog started to bark again. Knocking. Since we have a frosted glass bathroom door, I saw the outline of who knocked on the door. I knew that I know this guy from somewhere but I just couldn't remember. He was still knocking and I just stood there and I didn't know what to do. I opened the door. It was my brother. He wore a gorilla mask. It was a prank. I didn't know what to say. My brother was laughing but in my opinion it was not funny. I just realised... It is Halloween today! It was a little funny now but not much. But I knew something, next year I will scare my brother that much that he would remember it all his life.

It's year 2044, my name is Noir Alogov. I am 24 years old and I work as mercenary in USA what's left of it. USA was in grave debt after a war not only they needed to pay for the debt they even sold three major cities to companies those cities are San Diego, Los Angeles and Manchester. It did help but only for a while after all USA had other problems like revolution, slavery, etc. To be fair I am not only I am mercenary I don't have any augmentations. That means if they shoot me in an arm I will lose it, right now I am on a mission to locate and extract a chip.

"Hey Noir" said Ben (he's my friend) "What is it?", "You said that this mission is hard, but in which way?" "Which way" I said angrily "My dear friend we are going against the Tuskis, these guys are no joke they're strong like really strong." I said "sigh alright do you have any plan." Ben said. "Well we can go guns blazing or take it mmmm let's say diplomatically." "Let's take it diplomatically shall we." Ben said confident. We're at the door and we knocked. "Who's there" I guy behind a door said. "We're here on a business matter" "Alright get inside." Here goes nothing. A guy was sitting there menacingly "Would you like something to drink?" He said politely and I responded "Yes a water please" "Coming right up, so you wanted to discuss a business matter" "Yes sir, we would like to have a chip by number." "6-4384575C" I was interrupted by Ben "Oh~ that one alright I will give it to you but I need something in return" "of course sir that's why we have information and blueprints" "Is that so."

"Yes it is so.", I can feel gun at the back of my head "You know Noir, there's a big reward for you and I would like to have it." "Reward?" I asked

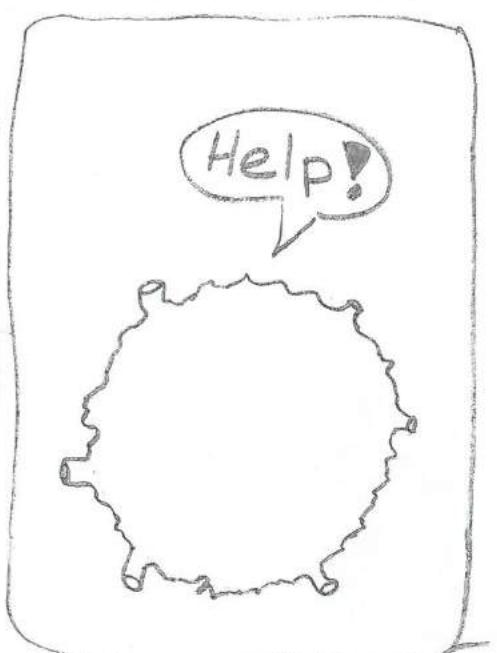

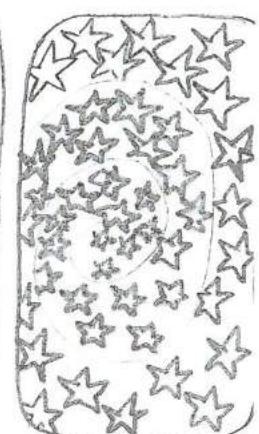

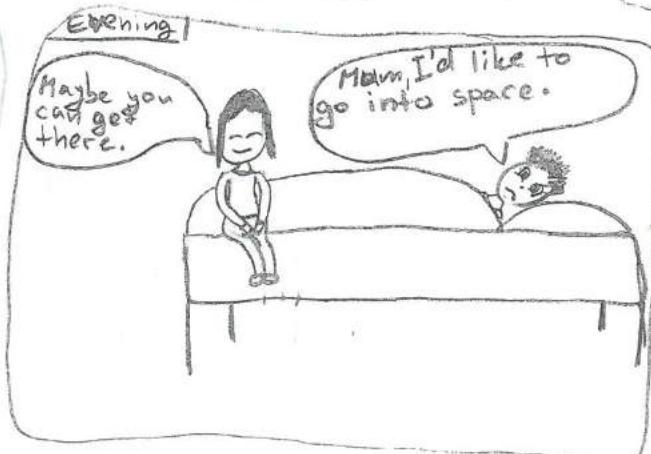

"Hm, yes reward, so I am going to kill you sorry mate" "Wait" I heard a gun shot "you killed Be-."

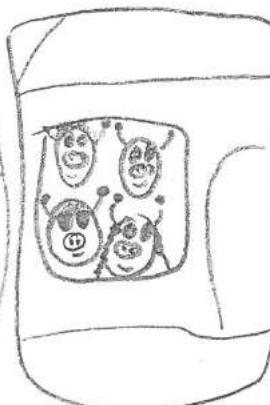

"Where am I?" "You're at dispose area" "thank you, wait who are you?" "I am you Noir" "Wait, what?" "Yes you heard me right Noir, I am Noir like you" "..." "Ok, I get it let me explain..."

It is the nature of writers to wonder. We wonder about others and we wonder about ourselves. We even wonder why we write.

Why do we write? We just do. We desire the stories. We love the words. We are compelled to communicate our wonder with the world. We write because we must.
